

Department Intent

Our intent is that the Computing and Business curriculum:

	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• creates opportunities to develop key subject knowledge, understanding and skills related to computational and business key concepts• provides an appropriate range of opportunities to interpret the requirements of specific tasks, identify differing audiences, and use the information to plan for a successful outcome• refers to how the knowledge, understanding and skills of computing could be applied to future academic or career decisions
	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• presents opportunities to apply knowledge, understanding and skills to varying contexts• enables critical analysis and evaluation• provides opportunities to form reasoned judgements and conclusions based on sound evaluation of information
	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• takes advantage of the practical use of technology• encourages imaginative solutions to problems• unites learning with leisure pastimes• ensures that all students are safe and understand how to stay safe